

Clinical Support Manager

Americas (virtual)

The Clinical Support Manager will act as a clinical liaison to the Company's independently owned healthcare staffing firms and recruiters who operate contingent workforce firms committed to professional healthcare staffing. They will coordinate the back-office support of those agencies provided by the People 2.0 platform. The Clinical Support Manager is responsible for licensing and credentialing standards as well as clinical and industry compliance in field operation. They'll oversee the development and deployment of quality assurance standards, and coordinate policies, procedures and communications in compliance with customer requirements.

To succeed in this role, an individual will have an exceptional and thorough understanding of the healthcare staffing industry, focused on travel nurses, per diem clinicians and MSP relationships. To be effective in influencing behavior and driving change, they must develop strong and positive, trust-based working relationships with key personnel in client's organization, and with People 2.0 executives and department leaders. The Clinical Support Manager will be the internal expert as it relates to all healthcare staffing operations, ensuring processes, systems and personnel are meeting our client's expectations.

Having a clinical background is strongly preferred due to the level of guidance and partnership that's required with clients in the healthcare staffing industry.

What you'll get to do:

- Ensure Company's healthcare clients maintain disciplined and compliant operations.
- Position People 2.0 as a trusted advisor to each client. Develop and nurture strong, partner-like business relationships with principals by demonstrating credibility, earning trust and delivering value.
- Facilitate and update all Performance Improvement plans for clinicians.
- Maintain Company's current licensure, certification or registration as required by state or local jurisdictions.
- Oversee the clinical and compliance aspects of implementations for new staffing and recruiting firms coming onto the Company's platform.
- Coordinate and oversee the selection and implementation of healthcare credentialing and scheduling software for clients.
- Offer expertise and guidance to clients in the handling of travel nurses, per diems and competitive wage reviews.
- Provide guidance to clients on Medicare/Medicaid application and billing process.
- Monitor compliance with annual performance evaluations, and other evaluations as required.
- Collaboratively with the HR Department, investigate, document and provide resolution on all clinical and professional DNRs.
- Provide expertise in the development of all internal clinical training requirements, based on state, client and affiliate needs. For example; HIV, CPR, Vaccinations, etc.
- Provide recommendations and content for Company's training and resource centers
- Provide expertise to the business development team in their efforts in closing healthcare staffing agencies.

- Closely monitor client operations to ensure compliance with the best practices, standards and procedures People 2.0 has defined, particularly as they relate to hiring, employment practices, risk management and client contracts.
- Ensure internal HIPAA control measures are in place.
- Manage team of credentialing specialists
